Who are the blessed ones of God? For Micah, they are those who do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with God. For Paul, they are the ones who find wisdom in the weakness of the cross. For Jesus, they are the poor, the meek, the merciful, the pure in heart, the peacemakers, those who mourn, and those who hunger for righteousness. In baptism we find our blessed identity and calling in this countercultural way of living and serving.

Church Fire Plan - For everyone's awareness, a copy of the Church Fire Plan for safe exit from the Sanctuary appears in the back of the worship books. Please take a moment to review for your own safety. The AED and a first aid kit are in the hallway by the office.

Worship Music Notes: North American composers have often sought inspiration from African music, especially Spirituals and Black Gospel tunes that are popularized in African American communities. Lutheran composers Anne Krentz Organ and Mark Sedio have arranged organ voluntaries based on well-known tunes from Evangelical Lutheran Worship, which have their roots in Black communities. "Njoo kwetu, roho Mwema" is hymn #401 Gracious Spirit, Heed Our Pleading composed by Tanzanian Lutheran Pastor and Musician Wilson Niwagila. "Linstead Market" is the tune for hymn #674 Let Us Talents and Tongues Employ, a text by Fred Kaan to this catchy Jamaican folk song. "Over My Head" may be new to us as it does not appear in our hymnbook. The song was an important contribution during the civil rights movement of the 1960s when Bernice Johnson Reagon added the text "I see freedom in the air". We continue to pray for freedom for all peoples and places in our world today.
